

November 14, 2025
Fasford Technology Co., Ltd.

Filing of Patent Infringement Lawsuits in China

Fasford Technology Co., Ltd. hereby announces that it has identified suspected infringements of its patent rights in China by products manufactured and sold by 东莞触装备有限公司 (part of the company name has been withheld).

To protect our legitimate rights and interests, we have filed patent infringement lawsuits with the relevant courts in China. The cases have been formally accepted by the courts, and judicial proceedings are currently underway.

This announcement is made to protect the rights and interests of our customers and other parties related to similar products.

Fasford Technology Co., Ltd. always places the highest priority on product quality and user experience. We remain firmly committed to protecting our legitimate rights and interests, including our intellectual property rights, and will continue to take decisive legal action against any acts of infringement.